About JAMA

Kirsten Bibbins-Domingo, PhD, MD, MAS

Editor in Chief

Gregory Curfman, MD

Executive Editor

JAMA, published continuously since 1883, is an international peer-reviewed general medical journal. JAMA is a member of the JAMA Network, a consortium of peer-reviewed, general medical and specialty publications.

Journal Reach. JAMA is the most widely circulated general medical journal in the world, with more than 125,000 recipients of the print journal, more than 2.8 million recipients of electronic tables of contents and alerts, and over 30 million annual visits to the journal's website. JAMA's reach includes a growing social media presence (more than 1.3 million social media followers [Facebook, X, Instagram, LinkedIn]) and vast international news media exposure.

Frequency of Publication and Access. JAMA is published 48 times per year in print/online issues, and new articles are published every weekday online. Without any author fees, all research articles are made free access online 6 months after publication on the JAMA website. In addition, the online version is freely available or nearly so to institutions in low- and middle-income countries through the World Health Organization's HINARI program.

Editorial Information. JAMA's acceptance rate is 12% of the more than 10,200 annual submissions and 5% of the more than 5,500 research manuscripts received. JAMA's Journal Impact Factor is 63.5, among the top 5 journals in medicine and science. For information about JAMA's reach and impact, decision and publication timelines, and author services, see below and the JAMA Editorial. For more information on the types of articles published and editorial policies, see the journal's Instructions for Authors.

Editorial Team. The Editor in Chief of JAMA is Kirsten Bibbins-Domingo, PhD, MD, MAS. See the Editors & Publishers for additional information on the journal's Editors and Editorial Board.

JAMA is a member of the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors, cosponsors the International Congress on Peer Review and Biomedical Publication, and is a member of the African Journal Partnership Project and is partnered with the Malawi Medical Journal.

JAMA's Key and Critical Objectives

Key Objective

To promote the science and art of medicine and the betterment of the public health

Critical Objectives

1. To maintain the highest standards of editorial integrity and quality independent of any special interests
2. To publish original, important, valid, peer-reviewed articles on a diverse range of medical topics
3. To promote and address diversity, equity, and inclusion within the journal and in medical research, clinical care, health policy, and society
4. To foster responsible and balanced debate on important issues that affect medicine, health, health care, and health policy
5. To provide physicians with continuing education in basic and clinical science to support informed clinical decisions and ongoing career development
6. To enable physicians to remain informed in multiple areas of medicine, including developments in fields other than their own
7. To improve health and health care internationally by elevating the quality of medical care, disease prevention, and research
8. To inform readers about the various aspects of medicine and public health, including the cultural, sociopolitical, ethical, legal, environmental, economic, structural, and historical
9. To recognize that, in addition to these specific objectives, JAMA has a social responsibility to improve equity and the total human condition, promulgate truth in science and medicine, and promote the integrity of science
10. To achieve the highest level of ethical medical journalism and to produce a publication that is timely, credible, and enjoyable to read
11. To use technologies to drive innovation and improve the communication of and access to journal content
